DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Krishnaswamy et al. (US 2002/0060247).

Regarding claim 7, Krishnaswamy et al. teaches a calibration device capable of calibrating any of one of a plurality of instruments (see Ref. 10 and paragraph 27), a database having a calibration procedure for any of the plurality of the instruments, means for connecting the calibration device to a selected one of the instruments while the instrument is on-site, means for connecting the calibration device to the database to access the calibration procedure for the selected instrument in the database to cause the calibration device to calibrate the selected instrument (see paragraph 48).

Regarding claim 8, Krishnaswamy et al. teaches portable media containing the database, and wherein the means for connecting the calibration device to the instrument includes a portable computer for accessing the portable media on-site (see paragraph 45).

Regarding claim 9, Krishnaswamy et al. teaches a computer located off-site and containing the database, internet access means for accessing the database via the internet, and password-protection means for limiting access to the database via the internet (see paragraph 48).

Art Unit: 2863

Regarding claim 10, Krishnaswamy et al. teaches password protection means limiting access to the off-site computer database (see paragraph 53).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-6 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The primary reason for the allowance of claim 1 is the inclusion of the limitation of selecting one of the instruments that measures vibration of a machine. It is this limitation in the claimed combination that has not been found, taught, or suggested by the prior art that makes these claims allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
